Laid before Parliament		10th February 2004
Coming into force	- -	1st August 2004

In exercise of the powers conferred on him by section 84(4) and (5)(a) of the Education Act 2002⁽¹⁾, the Secretary of State for Education and Skills hereby makes the following Order:

Citation, commencement, interpretation and application

1.—(1) This Order may be cited as the Education (National Curriculum) (Modern Foreign Languages) (England) Order 2004 and shall come into force on 1st August 2004.

(2) In this Order—

“the 2002 Act” means the Education Act 2002;

a reference to the third key stage is a reference to the period set out in section 82(1)(c) of the Education Act 2002;

a reference to relevant pupils is a reference to pupils in the third key stage in respect of whom there is a requirement to study a modern foreign language as a foundation subject; and a reference to an official language of the European Union is to a language specified as an official language of the institutions of the European Union by Article 1 of EEC Council Regulation No.1 of April 15, 1958⁽²⁾.

(3) This Order applies to maintained schools in England.

Revocation of Orders

2. The following Orders are hereby revoked with respect to England —

(a) The Education (National Curriculum) (Modern Foreign Languages) Order 1991⁽³⁾; and

(1) 2002 c. 32.

(2) O.J. B 017, 06/10/1958 p.0385-0386. Article 1 has been amended by successive Acts of Accession, most recently by those of Austria, Sweden and Finland.

Minister of State,
Department for Education and Skills

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order specifies, for England, languages that are “a modern foreign language”, which is one of the foundation subjects for pupils in the third key stage. It replaces the Education (National Curriculum) (Modern Foreign Languages) Order 1991, as amended by The Education (National Curriculum) (Modern Foreign Languages) (Amendment) Order 1994, which are revoked so far as they extend to England.
