SCHEDULE 4

Regulation 37

CONFORMITY ASSESSMENT PROCEDURES

(This Schedule substantially reproduces the provisions of Part 1 of Annex IV of the Transportable Pressure Equipment Directive.)

Module A—internal production control

1. This module describes the procedure whereby the manufacturer, or his authorised representative established within the Community who carries out the obligations laid down in paragraph 2, ensures and declares that transportable pressure equipment satisfies the relevant requirements of Part IV of these Regulations. The manufacturer, or his authorised representative established within the Community, must affix the conformity marking to all transportable pressure equipment and draw up a written declaration of conformity.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

2. The manufacturer must draw up the technical documentation described in paragraph 3 and either the manufacturer or his authorised representative established within the Community must keep it at the disposal of the Northern Ireland competent authority for inspection purposes for a period of ten years after the last of the transportable pressure equipment has been manufactured. Where neither the manufacturer nor his authorised representative is established within the Community, the obligation to keep the technical documentation available is the responsibility of the person who places the transportable pressure equipment on the market.

3. The technical documentation must enable an assessment to be made of the conformity of the transportable pressure equipment with the relevant requirements of Part IV of these Regulations. It must, as far as is relevant for such assessment, cover the design, manufacture and operation of the transportable pressure equipment and contain—

- a general description of the transportable pressure equipment,
- conceptual design and manufacturing drawings and diagrams of components, sub-assemblies, circuits, etc.,
- descriptions and explanations necessary for an understanding of the said drawings and diagrams and the operation of the transportable pressure equipment,
- a description of the solutions adopted to meet the requirements of Part IV of these Regulations,
- results of the design calculations, examinations carried out, etc.,
- test reports.

4. The manufacturer, or his authorised representative established within the Community, must keep a copy of the declaration of conformity with the technical documentation.

5. The manufacturer must take all measures necessary to ensure that the manufacturing process requires the manufactured transportable pressure equipment to comply with the technical documentation referred to in paragraph 2 and with the relevant requirements of Part IV of these Regulations.

Module A1—internal manufacturing checks with monitoring of the final assessment

In addition to the requirements of module A, the following applies.

Final assessment must be performed by the manufacturer and monitored by means of unexpected visits by a notified body chosen by the manufacturer.

During such visits, the notified body must:

- ensure that the manufacturer actually performs final assessment,
- take samples of transportable pressure equipment at the manufacturing or storage premises in order to conduct checks. The notified body assesses the number of items of equipment to sample and whether it is necessary to perform, or have performed, all or part of the final assessment of the equipment samples.

Should one or more of the items of transportable pressure equipment not conform, the notified body must take appropriate measures.

On the responsibility of the notified body, the manufacturer must affix that body's identification number to each item of transportable pressure equipment.

Module B—EC type-examination

1. This module describes the part of the procedure by which a notified body ascertains and attests that a representative example of the production envisaged meets the relevant requirements of Part IV of these Regulations.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

2. The application of EC type-examination must be lodged by the manufacturer or by his authorised representative established within the Community with a single notified body of his choice.

The application must include:

- the name and address of the manufacturer and, if the application is lodged by the authorised representative established within the Community, his name and address as well,
- a written declaration that the same application has not been lodged with any other notified body,
- the technical documentation described in paragraph 3.

The applicant must place at the disposal of the notified body a representative example of the production envisaged, hereinafter called “type”. The notified body may request further examples should the test programme so require.

A type may cover several versions of transportable pressure equipment provided that the differences between the versions do not affect the level of safety.

3. The technical documentation must enable an assessment to be made of the conformity of the transportable pressure equipment with the relevant requirements of Part IV of these Regulations. It must, as far as is relevant for such assessment, cover the design, manufacture and operation of the transportable pressure equipment and contain:

- a general description of the type,
- conceptual design and manufacturing drawings and diagrams of components, sub-assemblies, circuits, etc.,
- descriptions and explanations necessary for an understanding of the said drawings and diagrams and the operation of the transportable pressure equipment,
- a description of the solutions adopted to meet the essential requirements of Part IV of these Regulations,
- results of the design calculations made, examinations carried out, etc.,
- test reports,
- information concerning the tests provided for in manufacture,
- information concerning the qualifications or approvals.

4. The notified body must:

4.1. examine the technical documentation, verify that the type has been manufactured in conformity with it and identify the components designed in accordance with the relevant provisions of Part IV of these Regulations and in particular:

- examine the technical documentation with respect to the design and the manufacturing procedures,
- assess the materials used where these are not in conformity with the relevant provisions of the Directive and check the certificate issued by the materials manufacturer,
- approve the procedures for the permanent joining of pressure equipment parts or check that they have been previously approved,
- verify that the staff undertaking the permanent joining of pressure equipment parts and the non-destructive tests are qualified or approved;

4.2. perform or have performed the appropriate examinations and necessary tests to establish whether the solutions adopted by the manufacturer meet the relevant requirements of Part IV of these Regulations;

4.3. perform or have performed the appropriate examinations and necessary tests to establish whether the relevant provisions of Part IV of these Regulations have been applied;

4.4. agree with the applicant the location where the examinations and necessary tests are to be carried out.

5. Where the type satisfies the relevant provisions of Part IV of these Regulations, the notified body must issue an EC type-examination certificate to the applicant. The certificate, which should be valid for ten years and be renewable, must contain the name and address of the manufacturer, the conclusions of the examination and the necessary data for identification of the approved type.

A list of the relevant parts of the technical documentation must be annexed to the certificate and a copy kept by the notified body.

If the notified body refuses to issue an EC type-examination certificate to the manufacturer or to his authorised representative established within the Community, that body must provide detailed reasons for such refusal. Provision must be made for an appeals procedure.

6. The applicant must inform the notified body that holds the technical documentation concerning the EC type-examination certificate of all modifications to the approved transportable pressure equipment; these are subject to additional approval where they may affect conformity with the relevant requirements of Part IV of these Regulations or the prescribed conditions for use of the equipment. This additional approval must be given in the form of an addition to the original EC type-examination certificate.

7. Each notified body must communicate to the member States, the relevant information concerning EC type-examination certificates which it has withdrawn, and, on request, those it has issued.

Each notified body must also communicate to the other notified bodies the relevant information concerning the EC type-examination certificates it has withdrawn or refused.

8. The other notified bodies may receive copies of the EC type-examination certificates and/or their additions. The annexes to the certificates must be held at the disposal of the other notified bodies.

9. The manufacturer, or his authorised representative established within the Community, must keep with the technical documentation copies of the EC type-examination certificates and their additions for a period of ten years after the last of the transportable pressure equipment has been manufactured.

Where neither the manufacturer nor his authorised representative is established within the Community, the obligation to keep the technical documentation available is the responsibility of the person who places the product on the market.

Module B1—EC design examination

1. This module describes the part of the procedure whereby a notified body ascertains and attests that the design of an item of transportable pressure equipment meets the relevant provisions of Part IV of these Regulations.

2. The manufacturer, or his authorised representative established within the Community, must lodge an application for EC design examination with a single notified body.

The application must include:

- the name and address of the manufacturer and, if the application is lodged by the authorised representative established within the Community, his name and address as well,
- a written declaration that the same application has not been lodged with any other notified body,
- the technical documentation described in paragraph 3.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

The application may cover several versions of the transportable pressure equipment provided that the differences between the versions do not affect the level of safety.

3. The technical documentation must enable an assessment to be made of the conformity of the transportable pressure equipment with the relevant requirements of Part IV of these Regulations. It must, as far as is relevant for such assessment, cover the design, manufacture and operation of the transportable pressure equipment and contain:

- a general description of the equipment in question,
- conceptual design and manufacturing drawings and diagrams of components, sub-assemblies, circuits, etc.,
- descriptions and explanations necessary for an understanding of the said drawings and diagrams and the operation of the equipment,
- a description of the solutions adopted to meet the relevant requirements of Part IV of these Regulations,
- the necessary supporting evidence for the adequacy of the design solution; this supporting evidence must include the results of tests carried out by the appropriate laboratory of the manufacturer or on his behalf,
- results of the design calculations made, examinations carried out, etc.,
- information regarding qualifications or approvals.

4. The notified body must:

4.1. examine the technical documentation and identify components which have been designed in accordance with the relevant provisions of Part IV of these Regulations and in particular must:

- assess the materials used where these are not in conformity with the relevant provisions of Part IV of these Regulations,
- approve the procedures for the permanent joining of pressure equipment parts or check that they have been previously approved,
- verify that the staff undertaking the permanent joining of pressure equipment parts and the non-destructive tests are qualified or approved;

4.2. perform the necessary examinations to establish whether the solutions adopted by the manufacturer meet the relevant requirements of Part IV of these Regulations;

4.3. perform the necessary examinations to establish whether the relevant provisions of these Regulations have actually been applied.

5. Where the design meets the relevant provisions of Part IV of these Regulations, the notified body must issue an EC design-examination certificate to the applicant. The certificate must contain the name and address of the applicant, the conclusions of the examination, conditions for its validity and the necessary data for identification of the approved design.

A list of the relevant parts of the technical documentation must be annexed to the certificate and a copy kept by the notified body.

If the notified body refuses to issue an EC design-examination certificate to the manufacturer or to his authorised representative established within the Community, that body must provide detailed reasons for such refusal. Provision must be made for an appeals procedure.

6. The applicant must inform the notified body that holds the technical documentation concerning the EC design-examination certificate of all modifications to the approved design; these are subject to additional approval where they may affect conformity with the relevant requirements of Part IV of these Regulations or the prescribed conditions for use of the equipment. This additional approval must be given in the form of an addition to the original EC design-examination certificate.

7. Each notified body must communicate to the member States the relevant information concerning the EC design-examination certificates which it has withdrawn, and, on request, those it has issued.

Each notified body must also communicate to the other notified bodies the relevant information concerning the EC design-examination certificates it has withdrawn or refused.

8. The other notified bodies may on request obtain the relevant information concerning:

- the EC design-examination certificates and additions granted,
- the EC design-examination certificates and additions withdrawn.

9. The manufacturer, or his authorised representative established within the Community, must keep with the technical documentation referred to in paragraph 3 copies of EC design-examination certificates and their additions for a period of ten years after the last of the transportable pressure equipment has been manufactured.

Where neither the manufacturer nor his authorised representative is established within the Community, the obligation to keep the technical documentation available is the responsibility of the person who places the product on the market.

Module C1—conformity to type

1. This module describes that part of the procedure whereby the manufacturer, or his authorised representative established within the Community, ensures and declares that transportable pressure equipment is in conformity with the type described in the EC type-examination certificate and satisfies the relevant requirements of Part IV of these Regulations. The manufacturer, or his authorised representative established within the Community, must affix the conformity marking to all transportable pressure equipment and draw up a written declaration of conformity.

2. The manufacturer must take all measures necessary to ensure that the manufacturing process requires the manufactured transportable pressure equipment to comply with the type as described in the EC type-examination certificate and with the relevant requirements of Part IV of these Regulations.

3. The manufacturer, or his authorised representative established within the Community, must keep a copy of the declaration of conformity for a period of ten years after the last of the transportable pressure equipment has been manufactured.

Where neither the manufacturer nor his authorised representative is established within the Community, the obligation to keep the technical documentation available is the responsibility of the person who places the transportable pressure equipment on the market.

4. Final assessment must be subject to monitoring in the form of unexpected visits by a notified body chosen by the manufacturer.

5. During such visits, the notified body must:

- ensure that the manufacturer actually performs final assessment,
- take samples of transportable pressure equipment at the manufacturing or storage premises in order to conduct checks. The notified body assesses the number of items of equipment to sample and whether it is necessary to perform, or have performed, all or part of the final assessment of the equipment samples.

Should one or more of the items of transportable pressure equipment not conform, the notified body must take appropriate measures.

On the responsibility of the notified body, the manufacturer must affix that body's identification number to each item of transportable pressure equipment.
