 - (i) such organisations as appear to her to be representative of interests substantially affected by her proposals for this Order,
 - (ii) the Comptroller-General of Patents, Designs and Trade Marks,
 - (iii) the Law Commission,
 - (iv) the National Assembly for Wales, and
 - (v) such other persons as she considers appropriate;
- (b) following the consultation mentioned in recital (a) the Secretary of State considered it appropriate to proceed with the making of this Order;
- (c) a document containing the Secretary of State’s proposals was laid before Parliament as required by section 6 of the Regulatory Reform Act 2001(2) and the period for Parliamentary consideration under section 8 of that Act has expired;
- (d) the Secretary of State has had regard to the representations made during this period, in particular to the Sixth Report of Session 2003-2004 of the Delegated Powers and Regulatory Reform Committee of the House of Lords(3) and the Second Report of Session 2003-2004 of the Regulatory Reform Committee of the House of Commons(4);

- (f) the draft was approved by resolution of each House of Parliament;

(1) A consultation document on the deregulation of patents legislation entitled “Towards the Simplification and Rationalisation of Patents Formalities” was published by the Patent Office on 24th February 2003. (2) 2001 c. 6.

(3) Sixth Report published on 30th January 2004, HL32, ISBN 0104849169.

(4) Second Report published on 17th February 2004, HC337, ISBN 0215015436.

- (g) the Secretary of State is of the opinion that this Order does not remove any necessary protection or prevent any person from continuing to exercise any right or freedom which he might reasonably expect to continue to exercise; and
- (h) this Order creates burdens affecting persons in the carrying on of certain activities, and the Secretary of State is of the opinion that—
 - (i) the provisions of this Order, taken as a whole, strike a fair balance between the public interest and the interests of the persons affected by the burdens being created, and
 - (ii) the extent to which this Order removes or reduces one or more burdens, or has other beneficial effects for persons affected by the burdens imposed by the existing law, makes it desirable for this Order to be made;

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order amends the Patents Act 1977 (c. 37) (“the Act”) to enable it to be administered in conformity with the Patent Law Treaty (which was adopted at Geneva on 1st June 2000).

Article 3 amends section 5 of the Act so that declarations can, when certain conditions are met, be made in respect of an application filed more than twelve months after the date of filing of the earlier specified relevant application, or if there is more than one, of the earliest of them.

Article 4 amends section 14 of the Act and removes the requirement to pay a filing fee, but replaces it with a requirement to pay an application fee. It also makes it clear that section 117 applies to correction of errors in withdrawals of applications.

Article 5 substitutes a new section 15 and inserts a new section 15A into the Act. The new section 15 includes a number of changes, the most significant of these are more relaxed conditions for obtaining a date of filing, permitting missing parts of the description and drawings to be filed late and removing the need to request a preliminary examination.

The new section 15A sets out the requirements of preliminary examination, which unlike its predecessor under section 17, will include further duties on the examiner to determine whether the requirements under section 13(2) and the new section 15(10) are met. Further if the examiner finds that a drawing or part of the description is missing from the application this will be included in his report. After the examination, the examiner will have to make a report to the Comptroller, who in turn must give the applicant an opportunity to rectify any deficiencies.

Article 6 amends section 17 of the Act. In particular, a new subsection (1) is inserted and subsections (2) and (3) are repealed. These amendments are made in consequence of the requirements of preliminary examination being moved to the new section 15A.

Article 7 makes consequential amendments to section 18 of the Act.

Article 8 inserts a new section 20A and 20B into the Act. These new sections allow an application to be re-instated where it has been refused or treated as refused or withdrawn as a direct consequence of the applicant failing to comply with a requirement of the Act or any rules within the applicable time limit. The new section 20B provides similar protection to those persons affected by a reinstatement under section 20A as is presently provided by section 28A in the case of a restoration of a lapsed patent under section 28.

Article 9 amends section 28 of the Act. This amendment will mean that an applicant will only have to show that their failure to pay the renewal fee on time was unintentional, instead of having to prove that they exercised reasonable care to see that the renewal fee was paid on time.

Article 10 amends section 30 of the Act so that in future only assignors or mortgagors will need to sign relevant transactions, such as assignments and mortgages of patents.
